HIGHER COURT TO REVIEW CASE

Writ Issued by Judge Steward in Accordance with Petition of Jesse C. Little.

FURTHER ACTION IS STOPPED.

Case is One in Which Judgment Was Entered by Default in Judge Tanner's Court.

Jesse C. Little today filed a petition In the district court for a writ of review directed against A. C. McLean and Judge H. S. Tanner of the city court, in which it is asked that the proceedings taken in the city court in the case of A. C. McLean against the petitioner herein be reviewed by the higher court and that the lower court be restrained from taking further action in the supplementary proceedings in the

The petition alleges that the complaint was filed against petitioner in Justice Kroeger's court on Oct. 7, 1901, and was brought to recover $43 and inand was prought to recover $32 and interest on a promissory note dated June 8, 1897, less the sum of $40 which was paid on the same. Petitioner allowed the case to go by default and default judgment was rendered against him on Nov. 6, for $154.55 and costs amounting to $3,40. Mr. Little was unaware that judgment for such an amount as the above had been rendered against him until he was cited to appear before Judge Tanner on Aug. 10, 1903, for examination on supplementary proceedings. He filed a motion to quash the citation and to set aside the judgment in excess of the amount named in the summons, but the court denied his motion. He asks, therefore, that the proceedings in the case be reviewed by the higher court. A writ of review was accordingly issued by Judge Stewart.

SUNDAY SALOONS.

Miner Makes a Novel and Earnest Plea for Sabbath Day Liquid Refreshment Stand.

When Earr learned that Shamrock fared better in the heavy ground swell he led his rival close to the Lnog Island shoe, where Redia had better sailing and continually it has a her lead. Reliance has the better of all the short hitches in shore where she pinched herself to windward on every puff and clump of wind. The wind continued to drep until it was blowing not more than three or four miles an hour. Under these conditions Shannock rolled considerably but Reliance's flat, broad body kept her on her feet and consequently moving. Within one mile of the mark Reliance made two short hitches to fetch it. She left the mark on the starboard hand, gybing over as she CALLS IT NECESSARY EVIL.

But, why condone the first and condemn the latter? It is the same law that covers both; it is an inconsistency, and if ever a necessity existed, it exists in Bingham to keep open the poor manys hotel, the workingman's theater, and the prospector's haven of rest.
